LW Students Open Drive For School Radio Station

The Lincoln-Way high school band will present its winter concert Sunday afternoon, March 4, at 3 o'clock in the school auditorium and with the proceeds start a student sponsored campaign to establish a FM radio station at Lincoln-Way.

According to the plan an inexpensive 10-watt FM transmitter that would adequately cover the Lincoln-Way district, would be paid for out of the proceeds from the band concert, the vaudeville and the all-school play.

If everything goes according to plan, it was said, the station can be in operation by the opening of school next September. Such a station, it was said, would bring many of the school's activities into the homes of area residents.

Such a station, it was said, would have many uses. In keeping with the efforts of the Lincoln-Way Area Teachers Association it would be an ideal tool to make use of high school facilities in grade school classrooms. The Elgin schools have been doing this for the past eight years and with considerable success, it was reported.

In the Elgin system, for instance, a 15-minute music program is broadcast once each week to all grade levels. Similar programs, it was said, could be developed in speech, art, etc.

Fire At Night Routs Family Of 5; All Safe

Fire in the night, the terror that everyone fears, visited the home of John Pindelski, 168th and Wolf Road, shortly after midnight last Friday.

Pindelski's wife Hazel, awakened by the crying of their eight month old baby, John Jr., smelled smoke in the area of the furnace. She immediately awoke her husband and together they gathered up their three children; Janet, 5; Nancy, 4; and the baby, and fled to the safety of the night air. By the time they reached the door, the house was starting to fill with dense black smoke.

With his family safely outside, Pindelski returned to the house and called the fire department.

Physician Opens Office In Mokena

Dr. D. C. Cannavos, physician and surgeon is to open an office in Mokena today (March 1). He will occupy the space that had been occupied by Dr. J. A. Ramonas on Front street next to the Mokena pharmacy.

Dr. Ramonas has ceased practice in Mokena in order for him to devote his full time to his Orland Park practice. He had been keeping office hours in Mokena two afternoons a week.

Dr. Cannavos, who plans to move to Mokena, will keep office hours here daily except Wednesdays. The morning hours several days a week will be spent in Chicago hospitals in surgery. At Mokena he will engage in general practice, which will include surgery. His schedule of hours at Mokena will be from 3 to 7 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays; Fridays 5 to 8 p.m.; Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Dr. Cannavos specializes in surgery involving the chest and heart.

He is 37 years old and a native of Athens, Greece. He was graduated from the University of Athens and its medical college, and was a doctor in the Greek army for two years during the fighting to put down the Communist guerrillas.

From 1950 thru 1954 he studied surgery in the clinic of the Ludwig Maximilian university at Munich. He also received a Ph. D. from the university.

In 1955 he came to New York. His work abroad was excellent training and experience, of course, but before he could be licensed to practice here he had to resume his studies. He trained at the Roosevelt and French hospitals in New York for a year and then went to the clinic at Cleveland where he studied until 1958. From there he went to the National Jewish hospital at Denver for two years. In 1961 he passed the Illinois board and has also passed the boards in Wisconsin and Ohio.

In the past year he has been a practicing surgeon with offices in Chicago. He is on the surgical staff at Alexian Brothers hospital, Franklin Boulevard, Roosevelt Memorial, American and Woodlawn hospitals and a consultant on the staff at Tinley Park state hospital.

Dr. Cannavos is married. His wife, Lydia, of New York but a native of Austria, is a dentist but is not practicing.

Junior College Issue Is Getting Warm In L-W District

Junior college--once a mere educational term--has become a live subject in the Lincoln-Way high school district and is approaching the point where it is rousing more debate than does segregation in congress in an election year.

There was a public meeting held last night (Wednesday) to discuss the subject but because of the time element involved what transpired there cannot be reported until the next issue. The meeting was held in Lincoln-Way high school and intended to serve as a forum for the presentation of both sides in the controversy. So far most of the opposition has been reported from New Lenox and Manhattan areas.

For more than a year there has been considerable publicity in the area concerning the proposed establishment of a community junior college district which would take in various high school districts in the southwest section, including

Lincoln-Way high and its neighbor, Carl Sandburg high at Orland Park. As finally determined the proposed college district would also take in Oak Lawn, Reavis and Evergreen Park, which like L-W and Sandburg are members of the SWS Conference, Blue Island and Argo.

Bremen, Rich and Homewood-Flossmoor high schools districts originally were included in the boundaries of the proposed junior college district but dropped out before the petitions asking that election be held to determine whether such a district should be formed were filed with the state superintendent of public instruction.

A citizens advisory committee was set up to study the advantages and disadvantages of such a district with representatives from each high school district.

The Lincoln-Way board also asked its central advisory committee of citizens to look into the proposal and finally on recommendations of the committees the board voted to join with the other districts in setting up the machinery for a proposed community junior college.

A board spokesman pointed out that the committees began their studies early in 1960 and made their reports in May of 1961 and that considerable publicity was given the subject, not only in newspaper accounts but orally at various meetings of parents and school people, including members of the grade school boards and no objections were raised then.

The Lincoln-Way board and other proponents of the junior college plan find its to be quite attractive from a taxpaying standpoint. The proposed district is rich in industrial property and in 10 years, they say, it is expected the assessed equalized valuation -- on which tax rates are based -- will hit the $2-billion mark, thus assuring a low tax rate.

The state superintendent of schools approved the petition for an election and recommended that Cook County School Superintendent Noble Puffer give it his O.K., which he finally did after several continuances to allow opponents of the program to voice protests and file petitions of their own. He cannot set a date for the election, however, for some 20 more days. Under the law opponents of the junior college plan had 35 days in which to appeal Puffer's ruling to the circuit or superior court.

According to opponents of the plan they have been against it all along but the sharp opposition now exhibited did not manifest itself until comparatively recently and apparently was triggered by sentiments expressed by the Joliet high school board.

The Joliet board complained that it had not been consulted relative to the formation of a new junior college district that came to the borders of the Joliet junior college and so delivered a formal protest to approval of the petition before Puffer. The Joliet board pointed out that most of the people from the Lincoln-Way district area had always had close associations with Joliet high school and junior college and there is considerable sentiment expressed in sections of the district along that line.

Opponents of the SW college district contend that the natural affiliation of the Lincoln-Way district would be with Joliet junior college. They look with suspicion on any alliance with Cook county and point out that Lincoln-Way residents would have no voice in the affairs of the district; that Lincoln-Way would be regarded as the poor relation of the district and treated accordingly.

They also contend that the Lincoln-Way board should have had a referendum or at least a more thoro sampling of public opinion before committing the district to the SW junior college program.

Another point they raise is that a junior college in the area proposed would be superfluous in the face of the numerous junior colleges already serving the region plus the fact that when the University of Illinois completes its Chicago branch it would serve the needs of prospective junior college students better and cheaper.

Another complaint voiced is that the proposed junior college program calls for payment of tuition by students and that a figure of around $120 has been given as the probable cost. Why should such a rich district have to charge tuition, they ask, pointing out that residents of the Joliet junior college district pay no tuition.

Girl Scouts Sell Cookies To Aid Camp Fund

The annual cookie sale held by the Trailways Girl Scout Council, Inc. which includes three counties, began last week and will continue thru March 4. Cookies will be delivered by the girls during the week of April 5 to 12.

During the past year the Council was able to purchase 250 acres of land for its own camp. The money for this land was available from two sources, one was the camp fund collected by the three counties, and the other source was the profit from the last four cookie sales, plus several hundred dollars in interest earned from investing this money. The land which cost $60,000 is fully paid for, it was announced. Getting the land was just the first step. Roads need to be built, a water supply is needed, and also tents and buildings. Profit from this cookie sale will be put in the general camp fund.

Pester, 117 Fir, New Lenox, has won recognition for superior scholarship at Olivet Nazarene college by being placed on the first semester honor roll. The announcement was made by Dr. W. E. Snowberger, dean of the college. The honor roll consists of the names of those students with a grade average of "B" or above. Miss Pester had a grade average of 3.35 of a possible 4.0.

Olivet Nazarene College is a fully accredited four year liberal arts college owned and operated by the Church of the Nazarene. It has an approximate enrollment of 1,200 students.

L-W Bond Issue Loses By 69 Votes; Will Try Again

Beaten by 69 votes in a special election held last Saturday in the Lincoln-Way high school district, the $750,000 bond issue necessary to build an addition to the school will be re-submitted to the voters as soon as possible, it was indicated by members of the board of education this week.

Supt. A. Hunter Chapman said that under the law it will be necessary to wait 60 days before holding another election on the question of issuing the bonds. With such a provision the election could be held April 28 but the board has not yet taken action. It is expected, however, that a second election will be held then or in early May.

"I talked with the board members Monday," Supt. Chapman said, "and found them agreed that we must try again. We are not asking approval of this issue because we like to build or expand the school or because we want to pay more taxes. We have to expand our plant, regardless of how we may feel on the subject."

"We lack enough classrooms now to take care of our present enrollment of around 865 and as a result are making use of other areas -- auditorium, foyer, cafeteria and library -- to accommodate classes. By the fall of 1963 we will be swamped unless we have more classrooms."

The board hoped to get the new addition under way in June so the building would be ready for use by September, 1963. The board still has hopes of winning approval of the bond issue before the close of the current school year and getting the work started this summer.

There were "no" votes in all areas, of course, but the big opposition to the bond issue appeared to center in New Lenox township.

A total 878 votes were counted in New Lenox on the question which was 41% of the district total, and of the number cast in New Lenox there were 349 in favor of bond issue and 529 against it.

This margin of 180 votes against the issue in New Lenox turned out to be too much to be overcome.

The total count in the district was: NO - 1,076; YES - 1,007.

The vote in each of the six precincts was as follows: Frankfort--NO 160, YES 159; Mokena -- YES 250, NO 221; Lincoln Estates -- YES 46, NO 20; New Lenox -- NO 529, YES 349; Manhattan -- YES 158, NO 119; Arbury Hills -- YES 45, NO 27.

Lincoln Estates has always supported any school bond issue and the question found favor at Arbury Hills too but the vote there and Lincoln Estates was unusually light.

In fact the vote was light all over.

vote difference there and it appeared there was greater opposition to the bonds in Mokena than generally expressed in such elections in that community.

Observers say that some of the opposition developed out of

Area Churches Join In World Prayer Services

Women of the area, in common with those in 145 countries, will join in the 76th annual observance of the World Day of Prayer. Always held on the first Friday in Lent the observance this year will fall on March 9.

The Green Garden Methodist church will be host to the Mokena and Frankfort Methodist and United Church of Christ churches in a service that is to begin at 1:30 o'clock.

At New Lenox united services are planned for the evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock in the Church of the Nazarene. A combined choir will sing Fred Waring's "One God."

The speaker there will be the Rev. Harry J. Harwood, pastor of Jesse Walker Methodist church between Joliet and Plainfield. He and his wife served as Methodist missionaries in Burma for 30 years, from 1921 to 1951. The Rev. Mr. Harwood was executive secretary of the Burma Christian Council for 14 years and he also managed the work of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Burma at two different times in relief of the regular representative.

During the Japanese occupation of Burma the Harwoods served in the Methodist work in India. After aiding in the setting up of the overseas work program of the Methodist church in 1952. The Harwood took up pastoral ministry in Illinois. He was born near Streator while Mrs. Harwood is from Alliance, O. People of all denominations are invited to the service.

At Green Garden Mrs. Norman Gill is chairman of the committee in charge. Assisting her are Mrs. Edwin Dralle, Mrs. Dorothy Krapf, Mrs. Carl Weas and Mrs. Chester Steinberg.

Each year, Mrs. Gill explained, the service is prepared by the women of a different nation. This year the women of Uruguay have written the service on the theme "For God so loved the world." A woman from Michigan has written a dramatic presentation, "In Unbroken Line," which will be given by the Green Garden women, using authentic costumes from various lands.

Each hour during the 24 a new group somewhere around the world will be uniting in using the identical prayers and hymns of the service, Mrs. Gill said. She explained that an offering is given to further an interdenominational mission program to strengthen the understanding and support of missions at home and abroad.

Continuing projects in the U.S., which benefit from the World Day of Prayer offering, it was pointed out, include religious activities for 5,000 Indian protestant students in government boarding schools, migrant help in day-care centers, and for education and recreation. Overseas educational help is given in India, Pakistan, Japan, Korea and the French Cameroun. Help is also available for foreign students in the United States, and for bookmobiles for rural areas.

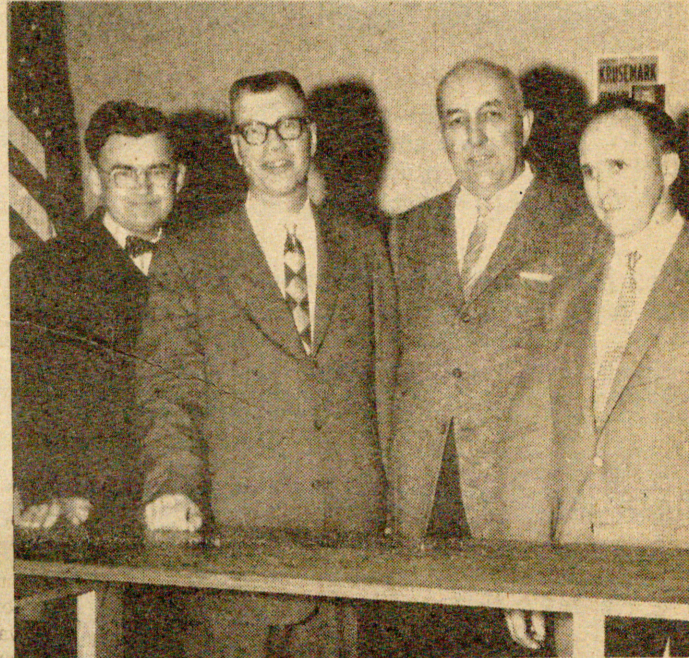

A press release dealing with the service sums it up thus: "World Day of Prayer gives stimulus to Christian world missions, to world sisterhood, therefore for peace, and to the spiritual growth of women."

Eagles Open Regional Tourney At Blue Island

BY GEORGE FREED

With a win tomorrow night over Bremen, Carl Sandburg can take an impressive 19-4 record into regional play at Blue Island next week. The Eagles are seeded number one at Blue Island and should experience little difficulty in their first game with St. Francis De Sales of Chicago. St. Francis finished last in the Metropolitan Catholic league. In conference play Marian Catholic beat St. Francis twice 64-46 and 88-64. Sandburg decided Marian at the Bloom holiday tourney 75-57.

Of the seven other teams entered at Blue Island, Sandburg has beaten four: Thornton Fractional South, Thornridge, Bremen and Blue Island. Thornridge and Blue Island along with Thornton Township have all knocked off state ranked Joliet in the last three weeks.

Thornton Township and Carl Sandburg going to Blue Island

recall past scraps between these two. Few Eagle fans will ever forget the regional championship game played two years ago when Sandburg made one of the most stirring comebacks in regional history to top the wildcats. Thornton rolled to a seemingly unsurmountable 27-14 half time lead. The Cats hit the first bucket of the third quarter making it 29-14, but some half time oratory by Coach Bill Adams took effect as the Eagles roared back hitting seven straight baskets without a retaliation from the stunned Cats. This spurt ignited the spark that carried Sandburg to victory 46-43. Lance Roberts, then a sophomore, had a hand in winning that one when regular center, Don Arnold, fouled out with five minutes to go.

With a years experience, the same Thornton defeated the Eagles last year at Harvey then went on to capture second place in the state tournament. All things point to another show-down between these two teams. Attempting to pick a winner at this time would be difficult as Sandburg must first get by Thornridge or Thornton Fractional South. (The Eagles have defeated both this year), Thornton must get by fast improving Blue Island. The Wildcats and Cardinals could spend themselves in their semi-final encounter which could work to advantage for the Eagles in the event they met either one for the championship.

As of now it looks like any one of three could win it all; Carl Sandburg, Thornton or Blue Island. With Thornridge, Thornton Fractional South, Bremen, Thornton Fractional North and St. Francis seeded in that order.

What ever happens, fans will get a look at some of the outstanding cagers in the area: Roberts of Sandburg, Clark of Thornton, Collins of Blue Island, Lussow of Bremen and Norman of Thornton Fractional South.

The first game, with St. Francis De Sales, is scheduled for 7 p.m. on Tuesday March 6. Blue Island High School is at Burr Oak (127th St.) and Sacramento.

Sandburg Wins Conference Title-Trounce H-F 79-53

By GEORGE FREED

Carl Sandburg romped to its 13th victory and the championship of the Southwest Suburban conference last Friday night by giving the Homewood-Flossmoor Vikings their worst beating of the season 79-53. With only one game left on the schedule, the Eagles are assured of first place; H-F and Rich being tied for second, three games down.

The Eagles added a blistering offense to go with their stern defense as four of the five starters hit in double figures.

Lance Roberts, who is in the process of rewriting the schools record books, gained high point honors with 25. John DeVoursney bagged 18, Dick Hlavek got 16 on four fielders and eight free throws, while Jim Lavine pumped in 11. Jim by the way was honored on the Chicago American team of the week for his outstanding play in the Rich East game.

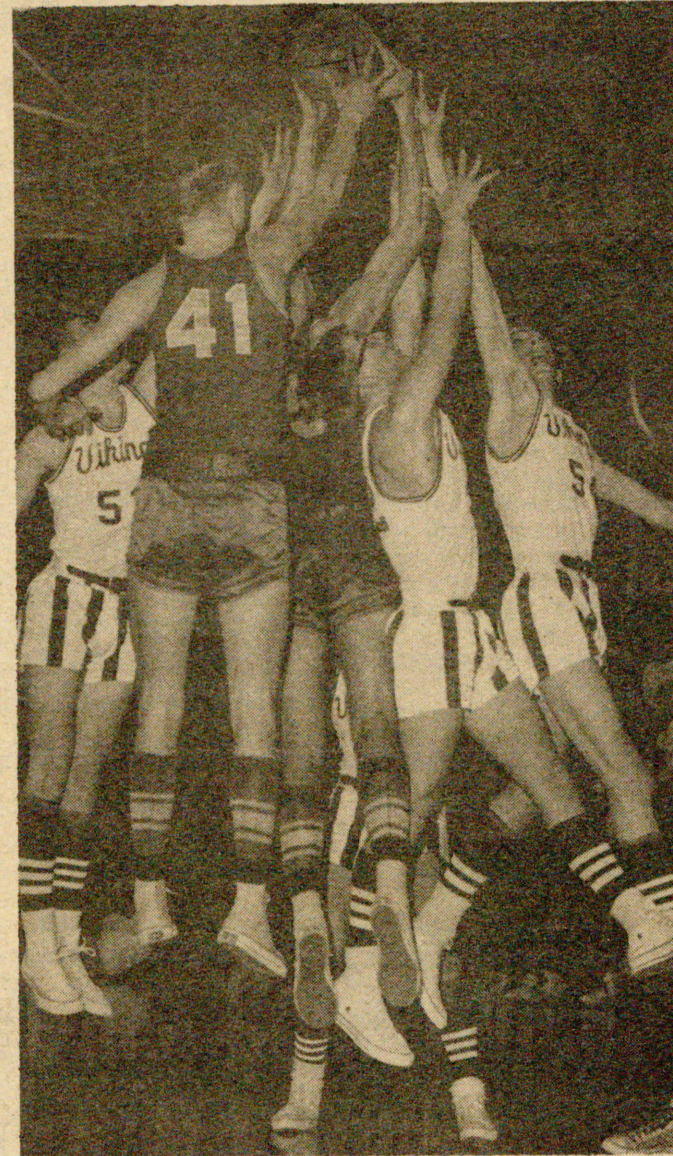

The loss proved the end of the line for Homewood-Flossmoor who had a slim chance of sharing the conference crown. The Vikings clung to their hopes for an upset for about 1 minute before the Sandburg title Express got into high gear jumping off to a 19-9 first quarter lead. By intermission it was a clear cut rout with the Eagles in front 47-20. At the end of the third quarter and the score 61-31, spectators were already leaving the packed gym realizing this was not the Vikings night.

The Orlando Parkers shot 45% from the field and hit 23 of 34 free throw attempts. Homewood-Flossmoor settled for 34% and only 11 of 26 from the charity stripe.

Conference scoring leader Lance Roberts boosted his total output for 13 games to 297, giving him a 33 point lead over his nearest challenger, Lussow of Bremen.

The Carl Sandburg Fresh-Soph gained number 12 in 13 conference outings by upending the young Vikes 46-32. Freshman Jim Roberts was high with 20 points.

Tomorrow night at home the Eagles can make history by ending league play undefeated with a win over the Bremen Braves.

PYRAMID OF FLESH -- Two Eagles and three Vikings all go up for the ball in this action caught at the game last Friday night that saw the Eagles defeat Homewood Flossmoor and thereby win the Southwest Suburban Conference basketball championship. Twin Sisters Observe Their 77th Birthday

Mrs. Ethel Lynk, Rte. 6, New Lenox twp., was hostess at a birthday dinner Wednesday, noon, Feb. 22, in honor of the twin birthdays of herself and her sister, Mrs. Edna Mergler of Homer twp. The guest list included, besides Mrs. Mergler, Mrs. George Burckham, her daughter Debbie and son, George Jr., also Mr. and Mrs. James Bethell and their son Alfred of Joliet, and Mrs. Dan Norris of Chicago.

During the day the ladies received telephone calls from their other sisters, Mrs. Mildred Harmon of Elgin and Mrs. Beatrice Wilson of Chicago. Also making congratulatory calls were Mrs. Mergler's daughter, Mrs. Verna Ault of Kansas City, and son Donald Mergler of Chicago.

The two 77-year-old ladies, who are natives of Homer, also received many cards from friends and relatives. At the evening dinner in the Elwyn Reed home, a lighted birthday cake marked the day for Mrs. Mergler.

HOME FROM HONEY-MOON

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Waldvogel, Homer Rd., returned from a southern wedding and honeymoon spent at Miami, Fla., on Wednesday evening of last week. They were married at Thomasville, Ga., on Valentine's Day, and then proceeded to Florida for sight seeing and auto races.

Mrs. Waldvogel is the former Jean Jungles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jungles of 151st St. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Merritt J. Cagwin and the late Ralph Waldvogel. He is locally famous as a stock car racer, having won many trophies in the sport. He also operates excavating machinery and runs the home farm here, where he and his bride will reside.

Mrs. Otto Moravec was hostess at the Thursday meeting of the Missionary society at Homer Church. Decorations and dessert were appropriate to Washington's birthday, as was the program arranged by Mrs. Cox. Plans were discussed for serving lunch at the Mrs. Reed Burch farm sale on March 3, also for the Father-Son banquet which will be on Thursday evening, March 15. Mrs. John Hollister and Mrs. Otto Moravec will head the supper committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren White have returned from a trip to Florida and Mr. and Mrs. Wrey White left on Friday for a southern auto trip.

About 25 Homer people, including the Homer Church Youth groups and drivers, attended the Movie, "Question 7", at the Princess Theater in Joliet last Wednesday evening. Furnishing transportation were John Hollister, Mrs. Ralph Cagwin, Rev. Cox and Alan Henderson.

Miss Carol Murphy of Wheaton spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Stanley Cox.

The Mother-Daughter banquet at Homer Church last Saturday evening was well attended. The chalk talk by Robert Braker of Downers Grove was beautiful as well as inspirational. The oldest mother present was Mrs. F. J. Paddock while Mrs. Robert Bielby and Mrs. John White tied for the honor of being the youngest mother. Mrs. Ralph Reiter had the most daughters present; Mrs. Bielby had the youngest daughter who was in attendance, while Mrs. Bruce Anderson was the mother of the youngest child. A toast to all Mothers was given by Miss Linda Hollister with a reply to daughters from Mrs. John Hollister. Mrs. Cox presided at the speaker's table.

A meeting of the Lockport Ministerial Association will be held at Homer Church Thursday morning (today).

The program at the March meeting of the Summit Hill Parent Teacher Group, to be held at the school at 8 p.m., on Thursday evening, March 8, will not be presented by the children as was previously announced.

The guest speaker of the evening, instead, will be Verne Crackel, the Will county superintendent of schools, who will discuss the procedure of the changing from a three-man school board of directors to a seven man board of education.

It is felt that this program comes at a very opportune time and will be to the benefit of everyone in the school district, including those who do not have children attending the public school.

Refreshments will not be served at this meeting.

Albert Behnke of 19531 South Beechnut Drive, was recently given superior awards for photography on his entries at the Northern Illinois Professional Photographers Association meeting.

Hints For Homeowners

By: JAMES FIZZELL, ASS'T. FARM ADVISER

Recently it has been reported that various cures have been found for Dutch Elm disease. Unfortunately, these reports are not based on fact. Several promising materials are being tested by experiment stations throughout the U. S.

The process of evaluation requires laboratory testing of the materials on the fungus which causes the disease. Materials which prevent growth of the fungus are tried on trees which have been inoculated with the fungus to see if the trees will absorb the material in sufficient quantities to stop the progress of the disease. No material has successfully passed this rigorous test.

Lay persons in various parts of the country have claimed that trees treated with various chemicals have been cured. However, these persons have failed to show that the trees were actually infected with Dutch Elm disease before treatment.

Even with sufficient evidence that the tree was actually infected and survived after treatment, this fact could be attributed as positively to chance as to the treatment. Single cases of cure are not sufficient evidence on which to base recommendations. Until a sure cure is found, the best way to protect elm trees is with proper sanitation measures (prompt removal of dead or dying elms) and an intelligent preventative spray program. The recommended spray is DDT or the safer Methoxy-chlorine applied before the buds swell in spring. The small twigs must be thoroughly covered. Once the leaves come out the possibility of covering the small branches is reduced. Summer sprays are of little, if any, value and are not recommended.

Much publicity about Dutch elm disease and lack of proper information make the home owner easy prey for unscrupulous "tree experts" with quick cures, or for tree removal crews looking for a quick "buck."

Do not buy any quick cures for Dutch elm disease. Do not cut down a living elm tree not shown by laboratory analysis to be infected with Dutch elm disease. When in doubt, call on established, reliable nurserymen or your county farm adviser's office.

Dear Sir:

I would like to take this opportunity to present some additional information concerning the proposed new southwest suburban junior college district.

From what I have read it appears that some people are trying to create the impression that Joliet will soon be closing the doors of its junior college to students from the Lincoln-Way area. They point out the fact that the Joliet school is overcrowded and that this would be an expected action. However, the fact that Joliet has approved a bond issue to finance the construction of two new four year high schools to relieve that crowding has been ignored.

I feel that every voter, taxpayer, and resident of the Lincoln-Way district should be made aware of the fact that these new schools will be under construction soon and that their doors will be open perhaps as early as the autumn of 1964. No one from Joliet has made any public statement indicating that students from the Lincoln-Way area would be turned away.

On the contrary, I have the impression that the officials of the Joliet school are more concerned about what services will be available to our youth than some of our officials here in our own district. It appears that Joliet is eager and willing to accept any qualified graduate from our area.

The building program mentioned above will permit the Joliet Junior college to utilize additional space in its present building to meet increased enrollments from its present service area including the Lincoln-Way high school district.

What is behind the rush to join a district dominated and controlled by Cook county schools? It seems far more logical for our high school board to propose a referendum offering the residents of our Lincoln-Way area an opportunity to express their opinion and desire on the question of paying tuition to our high school graduates so they can attend the Illinois junior college of their choice. This program could probably be financed for about 1/5 as much as the cost of organizing a new college district.

If we followed the program mentioned above, which has already been adopted by the Lockport area, we would then be in an excellent position in future years to take advantage of any new developments as junior college district organization progresses in Illinois. In the meantime our high school graduates would be enjoying the benefits of a junior college education at a very modest cost to the district.

Joliet's school officials have indicated publicly that they are interested in our welfare. I think it is time the voters of this district hear from our school officials on the possibility of following the plan which seems to be working very well for Lockport.

Sincerely,
HAROLD MILLER

We Can Be Proud

Our congratulations to Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn, Jr. and the scientists, workers and the servicemen assigned to the recovery crews for the success of the voyage into space.

On Feb. 20 Astronaut Glenn orbited the earth three times, logging some 81,000 miles in 4 hours, 56 minutes. Count of the time began at blastoff and concluded when the spacecraft settled down in the sea from which it was recovered by the destroyer, U.S.S. Noa.

Thus Feb. 20 was a great day in the history of the United States and the free world and the date will go down in history alongside Oct. 12, 1492 which marked the successful conclusion of the voyage of discovery by Christopher Columbus.

Space was described by President Kennedy as an ocean which we must sail. The same thing was voiced once by Glenn but in different words.

"We've got to do it," declared the intrepid Marine pilot. "We are going into an age of exploration that will be bigger than anything the world has ever seen. People are afraid of the future, of the unknown. If a man faces up to it and takes the dare of the future he can have some control over his destiny. That's an exciting idea to me, better than waiting to see what's going to happen."

Lt. Col. Glenn is a man of great courage and determination as well as vision. Ten times he prepared to take off and 10 times the flight was cancelled. On one occasion he lay strapped in the capsule for more than five hours before the flight was called off.

Blastoff was delayed more than two hours on Feb. 20 when last minute repairs and adjustments were found to be necessary.

All this waiting would have taken a toll of a lesser man but Glenn had what it takes.

It will be sometime yet before a full evaluation is arrived at on his accomplishment. There were many tests conducted, of course, in conjunction with the flight that should provide scientists and engineers with valuable information for future voyages into space.

But to the man on the street the flight proved two things—that man could travel in space and he could return safely to earth. So on Tuesday morning of last week millions thrilled and undoubtedly millions cheered when the rocket carrying the space ship soared aloft and moments later it was announced Glenn was in orbit. Five hours later millions of watchers and listeners of TV and radio programs gave a tremendous sigh of relief and loosed spontaneous cheers of thanksgiving.

Americans wanted their man to conquer space but they also wanted him back, safe and sound. We just can't afford to lose men like Glenn.

As far as we KNOW the Marine Corps pilot is the first man from earth to orbit our planet. The Administration and those in charge of our space program put it on the line. Television and newsreel photographers, radio crews and newspaper men were permitted to see all, report all. Checkpoints spotted around the world reported the passing of the space ship and Glenn's comments.

Instruments in the ship and attached to Glenn's person relayed his reactions to instruments at the control center of the project, as well as his words. Communication was maintained at all times except momentarily when the space ship reentered the earth's atmosphere.

Had the flight failed the world would have known and it would have been a serious blow to our prestige.

Russia announced to the world last April that it had put a man in flight, that he had orbited the earth once and had returned safely. Last August Russia claimed to have staged another space flight in which the craft had orbited the earth 18 times. It is possible the claims may be true but there is no proof. Russia has made claims in other fields that have been proven false.

Such flights, if they were made, were cloaked in secrecy and it has always seemed odd to us that they were not noted by some scientific outpost somewhere.

We don't know what Russia has actually accomplished in probing space but we do know that on Feb. 20, 1962, a United States astronaut made a successful voyage into space and returned.

As a people and a nation we can feel very proud.

On Second Thot

By GLENN F. LOGAN

My Grandfather Henderson saw the advent of sulfa but did not live to see the flood of wonder drugs that followed. It is doubtful that he would have had much personal knowledge of them, however, because he was seldom ill.

I don't believe he was what you might call doctor-sick more than a couple of times, including his last illness. Oh, sometimes he didn't feel well but always seemed to know what to do about it and in a little bit he would be feeling better. His remedies were simple ones and when you get right down to it they could have been called miracle drugs too because today they would be scorned and 25 years ago they were effecting cures.

I believe, tho, that he did have some old remedies that had been handed down thru several generations that he credited with miraculous powers, so perhaps I shouldn't have said that he was a stranger to wonder drugs.

I remember well a story he used to tell that concerned quite a spectacular cure—man restored to the full use of his legs after having been on crutches for 10 years thru the judicious use of chewing tobacco.

The man lived in Sedalia. I don't recall now the cause of his condition but apparently he had been so beset with arthritis or rheumatism that his right leg was drawn up and stiff at the knee so he couldn't straighten it or put foot to ground.

Now while his bum leg kept Henry—his name was—just call him that—from working it did give him considerable time to get about and visit with people and participate in debates on politics or community affairs at the barber shop, the harness shop, the grocery store, the saloons, the lumber yards or the market square.

In those days, which was before the beginning of the 20th century, lumber yards also served as parking lots. They had sheds where one could put up his horses or mules and even get part of his rig—whether it was buggy, wagon or cart—partially under cover. The whole yard was enclosed with a fence that as a rule stood six or seven feet high.

A farmer coming in to do his shopping could leave his horse and rig at one of the lumber yards if he chose. Sometimes he would bring in a cow or horse to sell and frequently such sales could be effected at the yard instead of transporting the animal on to the market place.

On this particular day that figured in the story, my grandfather said, the lumber yard was a busy place. There were quite a number of farmers in and the congestion was further heightened by the fact that a cow one man had brought in to sell had gone temperamental. She had laid down and she would get up. Nudges, blows and the time honored method of twisting her tail—which is supposed to be irresistible to a moody cow—failed to get her up.

The incident naturally attracted the people inside the yard and the sight of a knot of spectators naturally attracted the attention of passersby and they flocked into the yard to see what was going on, forming a circle around the reluctant cow. And an interested member of the circle was Henry, balanced there in his crutches. He watched the various means taken to move the cow and even voiced some suggestions of his own.

It was then, my grandfather said, that a cowhand walking along the street saw the circle and joined it. Later it was learned that he was one of a crew accompanying a trainload of cattle that was being shipped into Kansas City over the Missouri Pacific. The depot was only four blocks from the lumberyard and his cowhand had wandered up that far while the cattle were being watered and rested as required by law.

He pushed thru the ring and took in the situation. "Wanta get her up?" he addressed the owner.

The latter replied that he did indeed want to get her up. The cowboy, who was chewing tobacco, stepped across to the cow, reached down and with thumb and forefinger spread the lids of an eye wide open, and with the same movement spit a stream of tobacco juice in the eye and jumped clear. The spectators moved too. A few seconds elapsed, my grandfather said, and then the cow came up with a Whoosh! and took off.

Henry was in her path, but not for long. With a shout and a sweep of his arms Henry threw his crutches in the general direction of the charging cow and then took off himself. He sped across the yard to the fence, leaped up, grabbed the top and pulled himself up and over.

Henry never used the crutches again, my grandfather said.

COOK COUNTY FARM
ADVISED TINLEY PARK - KE 2-4369

Officers and members of the Cook County Agricultural Extension Council attended a session on program planning in Aurora recently. This meeting was held to assist council officers in working with the farm advisers to develop the strongest, most effective extension educational program for the residents of Cook and surrounding counties.

Silver Cross Announces Nurse Refresher Course

Silver Cross Hospital, Joliet, is receiving applications for a second graduate nurse refresher course to begin in late March. It will be conducted as a part of the hospital's inservice program in cooperation with the Silver Cross Alumnae association.

The shortage of nurses has been in part due to a feeling on the part of former graduates that they are not prepared to assume the duties of today's nurse. The general purpose of the Silver Cross course is to assist graduate nurses from all schools of nursing to become acquainted with the new trends in nursing, nursing procedures, and the health team concept. The inactive nurse gains a feeling of security from an educationally sound refresher program.

The new course will include 60 hours of class room work plus supervised clinical experience in all nursing departments and will cover a time period of about 12 weeks. There will be a tuition charge covering the cost of materials used. Thirty eight graduate nurses received certificates at the close of last year's course and over half of them returned to active duty at Silver Cross and other hospitals, and in private duty nursing. Twenty graduates have already shown an interest in taking the new course and will be interviewed. Enrollment will be limited to a number who can be well supervised in clinical work.

Anyone interested in further details may contact Mrs. Naomi Corsini, director of inservice education, Silver Cross hospital, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays.

30. If you have questions concerning the Feed-Grain program, feel free to contact the Extension office. Available at the office are budget forms which will give you an idea of the dollars and cents benefit or lack of benefit for participation. However, please remember that the dollars and cents aspects is one of the considerations in making a decision about participation in the Feed-Grain program.

The Cost Accounting program for commercial producers of vegetables is now picking up steam. We are still in need of a few more cooperators for this project. If you are a commercial vegetable producer and would like to participate, please get in touch with us.

National 4-H Club Week will be observed March 4 through 10. This program is a unique educational enterprise for boys and girls. By being a 4-H Club member, they can "Learn by Doing" in project work; however, even more important is the citizenship training, which is an important part of the total 4-H Club program.
